ON THE WING

In Prof. Treudley's travels he does not forget us, but sends to Athens' papers an occasional letter which breathes of the Treudley-esque atmosphere. We gladly reprint the following:

"Washington, D. C., Nov. 14, 1921.

Editor Green and White:—

It has occurred to me that it might give a little pleasure to say something about some of the O. U. men and women whom I have met during the last two and a half months. I feel about them as Curtis Goddard remarked to me in Cleveland to the effect that whenever in any gathering he came upon these representatives of O. U., he had no reason other than to be very proud of them as he compared them with others. It has been my pleasure since leaving Athens to address the students in their weekly or daily convocation at Ohio Northern, Western Reserve, the College of Missions of the Disciples of Christ located at Irvington, Indiana. Butler, and my Alma Mater, the University of Indiana. Of course any group of young people gathered out of a definite area as were these, and under like conditions will yield much the same kind of experience but I feel more and more as I meet our young men and women maturing into strength and wisdom that it was a thoroughly good fortune which threw me into contact with such lives.

At Indiana University, I met Dr. Badertscher and Dr. Morgan, was in their homes and in their places of work. The impression left upon me was one of peculiar pleasure. Not only are they competent workmen and so recognized but they are Christian gentlemen possessing homes of refinement and they are beginning to give account of themselves to the world at large through their writings. Rarely did any greater pleasure come to me than with Dr. Badertscher and his wife. We viewed that beautiful and rolling country which surrounds Bloomington for sixty miles from north to south. Of course these Ohio men were few in number compared with my Indiana friends but they were of the same quality and fibre.

In Indianapolis we found a large number of associates connected in early days with Union City and Hiram, but I recall none associated with O. U.

In Cleveland we were happy to meet the Plummer boys in the office of Dr. Howe of Chase. In the Western Reserve law school are three others studying including Graham and Robert Merkle. Connected with the Union Trust Company and holding responsible positions are Frank Copeland, Moler, Hartford and Tewksbury. This great institution is the largest bank in America, one in Chicago and two in New York. I found with Mr. Sam McCune in the Midlank Bank, Mr. White and Dean Copeland, while around the corner an officer in the Federal Reserve bank, Mr. Fletcher, and in the bonding firm of Murch and Company, we found great satisfaction as we always had, in meeting Mac Bethel. I think it ought to be observed that Mr. McCune has rendered a notable service to many of O. U.'s students by putting them on the way to successful business careers. Most of the persons referred to above I had the privilege of meeting for I wanted to know how the boys were coming on and I was not disappointed. Mr. Allen Bower was on the streets and he spoke most kindly of O. U. At one of the meetings of North-Eastern Ohio Teachers' Meeting, I came upon the Misses Livingston, Thourot, Jump and Mahan. I suppose that at least two score or more of O. U. young people are doing acceptable and some of them conspicuous work in the Cleveland schools.

In Lima I was fortunate enough to witness a part of a capital lesson by Mary Lee Deputy in Latin in the Central high school, and met Miss Zella Foster, the head of the department of English, a woman of very blessed memory in Athens by reason of her grand services as a teacher there. I met casually on the streets, searching for a house to live in, one who was known as Miss Haight, very gifted then as a pupil, now equally gifted as a woman and as the wife of the principal of the South Side High School of Lima, with forty teachers associated with him and nine hundred students. While I was engaged with a Rotarian tailor one day he was called out for consultation about furnishing a school for crippled children by one of our young women in charge of that school, Miss Moore. By chance I accompanied a little friend one day to her school and unexpectedly found the principal of the school one of my pupils and one or two other teachers all appreciative members of O. U.

In Wapakoneta, Naomi Caldwell's name is held in the very highest honor and I heard her teach a class in Shakespeare with an enthusiasm and ability for which I was full of admiration. Through her I had the pleasure of speaking to the high school, a school very unusual in numbers, interest and apparent ability for a town of that size.

In Union City we found Othneil Bartholomew now launched and most happily too, on a most promising business career, and also, his sister, Marion, of the schools of Winchester, Ind.

In Bellefontaine, I was pleased to meet with the mother of the Fawcett boys, with Miss Cline, and with relatives of Miss Davids, now the wife of one of the Pugh boys. I was very much pleased to meet Dr. and Mrs. Swineheart so well beloved in Athens and whose two daughters were young people of notable ability there. While at Indian Lake I had the pleasure of calling on the parents of Oscar Underwood.

We had an unusually pleasant visit in Canton. It was an unexpected good fortune to be piloted by Madge Lindsay thru their wonderful $3,000,000 high school, the McKinley. I thought the youth of that city must fare well in having combined for them teachers of her ability and moral earnestness with such an equipment. I met Miss Key Wenrick also in her place of work and noted the kindly atmosphere in which her work in art is being conducted. Mable Musser and Anna Shafer are engaged also in those schools. I called on Kinnison and Sam Shafer. Both of those brief calls were exceedingly pleasant. Certainly it would be most gratifying to the superintendent of schools of Jackson, Ohio, to have heard what reached my ears concerning both his son and his son's wife, herself an O. U. girl. And as for Sam Shafer in a real estate office employing in good times seventy men, I found in him an energy and a cheery sense of well being auguring well for the future.

I must not close without referring to meeting Mildred Riley at the College of Missions preparing for the foreign field while her sister Grace bound for the same work is studying to be a nurse in Kansas City. I meant also to have mentioned meeting for a moment Dr. George Kaler in Union City. What I wish to say, however, is that I heard time and again the warmest expression of good will and confidence in him and his work and the deepest regret that circumstances had called both of them elsewhere. Certainly in their brief stay in Union City they had achieved an exceptional place.

Meeting these many young people and others cheered me and my wife very much on our way and made us feel that these young friends of ours were getting hold of life in the right way and these experiences confirmed us in the thought that while teaching subjects one to marked limitations it does yield compensations of very supreme value and it may at last land one into an old age liberal and rich in its appointments and very gracious and grand in its outlook."

F. TREUDLEY.

AMONG THE COLLEGES

Hiram College is conducting a campaign for the endowment of a Jessie Brown Pounds Memorial Chair in that institution.

Mrs. Pounds, while a noted writer and lecturer along religious and literary lines, is best known as a song writer. Among her most popular numbers are "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and "The Way of the Cross Leads Home." She lived at Hiram where she died a few months ago. The amount to be secured for the endowment is $50,000.

Miami University has raised more than $217,000 in its campaign for $1,000,000.

Ohio State Alumni Association has an annual budget of $25,000.

Ohio State has had its first "Gridiron Dinner," fashioned somewhat after the famous newspaper function staged annually at Washington. From all reports it was a great success and will no doubt become a permanent institution at "State."

Purdue University boasts as the top-notch in alumni support of the Alumni publication. Fifty-five per cent of her Alumni are paid-up subscribers for "The Alumnus," the official organ of the Alumni Association.

Honorable Newton D. Baker, Ex-Secretary of War, will deliver the address on University Day, February 22, at Ohio State.

ALUMNI ACTIVITIES

Ten years ago when the Alumni office was trying to complete the archives of those who had graduated in the first century of the college's existence, the search for some facts relative to John M. Christian of the class of 1844 proved in vain. The only available data at hand was his name, date of graduation and his profession, that of teacher, together with the name of a city, Richmond, Va.

Recently through one of our graduates, Miss Haidee Gross, '09, a clue was accidentally discovered.

It was found that Miss Harriet Christian, of Marion, is a daughter, and Geo. B. Christian, Jr., secretary to President Harding, is a grandson of this Alumnus of 1844. Miss Christian has furnished a copy of his diploma written in Latin, together with a short sketch of his life which we reproduce:

"Dr. John Miller Christian, son of the late Col. John Hunt Christian, was born March 31, 1831, on the plantation known as Roxbury, in New Kent County, Virginia. His ancestors of the Christian name came from the Isle of Man; others were French Huguenots. The family was of the colonial period in the history of Virginia. He was educated primarily at Rumford Academy. He came north to Columbus, Ohio, about 1841; was a graduate of Ohio University, at Athens, Ohio, in 1844, a classmate of the late Samuel (Sunset) Cox. Owing to his relationship to Letitia, first wife of President John Tyler, he was enabled to enter the post-office department for a short time.

He came to Marion, Ohio, in 1845, and became superintendent of Marion Academy. He was married in 1846, to Paulina, daughter of the late Major George H. Busby. Later between the period mentioned and 1853 he became a student of medicine of the homeopath and regular schools. After two years of practice at Lawrenceburg, Ind., he returned to Marion, Ohio, in 1855, where he practiced medicine until his death in 1882. After the death of his wife in 1864, he married in 1867, Josephine Elizabeth, daughter of the late Daniel Norris, a pioneer of Marion County. There are six children surviving, three of each family: George Busby, Mary and Carrie; Norris, Harriet and Bernice. All the children are residents of Marion except Mary who resides at Sturgeon, Mo. A grandson, George Busby Christian, Jr., is secretary to President Harding.

Dr. Christian was greatly beloved and highly esteemed by all in the home of his adoption."

THE PITTSBURG MEETING

Fifty-one alumni and members of their families gathered at the Hotel Chatham, Saturday night, January 28, for the organization dinner of the Western Pennsylvania Chapter of the Ohio University Alumni Association.

The guest of honor was the new President and he was asked to speak first as many of the alumni were from surrounding towns and it was feared that they might have to leave early and miss hearing Dr. Bryan. President Bryan gave a splendid address on what he expects to do at Ohio and filled the hearts of all with loyalty and enthusiasm for their Alma Mater.

Dr. Henry P. Kohberger, '99, responded to President Bryan and assured him of the loyalty and support of the Alumni of Western Pennsylvania in whatever he might undertake.

The oldest class having a member in Pittsburg, that of 1889, was represented by Mrs. Gladys McVay Skinner, who told of the few buildings and professors on the campus in her day.

Dr. Newman H. Bennett, 1899, also contributed reminiscences.

Mr. J. C. Linville of the class of 1916 recounted some idiosyncrasies of professors and ex-students.

In the short business meeting which followed, the Western Pennsylvania Chapter was organized and the following officers elected:

President—E. C. Merwin, 207 Mifflin Ave., Wilkinsburg, 93-98.

Vice President—Dr. Henry P. Kohberger, 118 E. Negley Ave., 1899.

Sec'y-Treas.—Mrs. Gilbert J. Rich, 147 Prospect Ave., Crafton Branch, 1916.

Board of Control—Mrs. George DeCamp, 88 King Edward Apt., 1893.

Executive Committee—Louise Ebersbach, 1917; Edith Cherrington, 1915; F. B. Hildebrand, 1909.

A telegram of greeting was received from the Steubenville Chapter, and also letters from Prof. Martzloff, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lee Shilliday, Gettysburg, Pa.; Anna Rowan, Clarion, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Skinner, Indiana, Pa.

The pleasure of the evening consisted not only in the "eats" and the formal program, but more especially in the opportunity afforded the alumni to meet President Bryan and one another. The organization which was formed seems assured of continued success.

PITTSBURG'S NEW PRESIDENT

"Just a line to let you know that we had a very enthusiastic meeting of the O. U. Alumni in Pittsburgh, on January 28th and the committee which arranged the affair deserve a lot of credit.

"Our new president, Dr. Bryan, made a most favorable impression and we feel there are great things in store for Ohio University under his leadership.

"We are just a little afraid that the Pittsburg Alumni made a mistake in their choice of a President for the next year, but we are going to give our best efforts toward making this a 100% Chapter.

"I wonder if you could send me a list of the Alumni and Ex-students living in the Pittsburgh district of whom you have any record."

ERWIN C. MERWIN, '98.

PITTSBURG REDIVIVUS

No sooner over with her first Alumni Dinner than preparations for the next one were begun. A letter from Mrs. Enid Rosabelle Rich, who was the moving spirit of the recent gathering, tells us somewhat of the plans and hopes for the future. In another paragraph the new President, Mr. Merwin, expresses himself in the same vein.

A preliminary meeting is soon to be held at the home of Mrs. George DeCamp. Besides, Mrs. Gladys McVay Skinner has invited the Ohioans to use her grounds, when picnics are ripe, for a real goodness-to-gracious time. Our hope is that the Alumni Secretary will get in on that!

A GOOD START AT MARION

"The first gathering of Ohio University Alumni and ex-students of Marion, Ohio, was held on Wednesday evening, January 25, 1922. The occasion of this meeting was a dinner in honor of our new President, Dr. E. B. Bryan, who was in Marion at this time to give an address before the teachers and patrons of the Marion Public Schools. About fifty guests were present to greet Dr. Bryan.

"Dr. H. R. McVay, superintendent of the Marion schools and one of the trustees of the University, related some bits of interesting history in connection with the institution and then with a few appropriate remarks introduced Dr. Bryan to the group. Dr. Bryan told us of familiar scenes at Athens and of the professors whom we all knew. He then outlined some plans for the future growth and improvement of the University. All were delighted with the talk and were very favorably impressed with the new President.

"College songs were sung during the evening and our memories thus carried back to former days at O. U.

"At the suggestion of Dr. Bryan it was decided to form a permanent organization and make the meeting and dinner an annual affair. Mr. W. A. Stage was chosen president and Miss Lottie Touchman, secretary.

"Everybody agreed that the evening had been a very profitable and enjoyable one and hoped to see many repetitions of the occasion in future years.

LOTTIE TOUCHMAN, '15."

TOLEDO IS STARTING

Carlos M. Riecker, Y. M. C. A., Toledo, has written for a list of names of Ohio folks who live thereabouts. He says they are going to have a meeting in that city soon. The Editor urges all our people to communicate with Mr. Riecker and tell him they are interested in the movement.

The Ancient Greek has made its monthly appearance, bringing with it an abundance of interesting newslets concerning Delta Tau Delta folks. Among the things it says are that its editor sometimes gets discouraged, that Lt. Hobart Saylor is hibernating in a Cuban bay, that Hoke Palmer, a migrant bird, has taken wing for Florida, that Ned Bean acknowledges that times are hard, that "Stogey" Bolon is the author of Garcia Smokers, which sell at the newsstands at five cents each, that Ed. Gillette and wife have a son since December 28, that W. W. Gist is still a loyal Delt, and so on, ad infinitum. Darrel Moore is instigator of this interesting monthly visitor.

AT CHILLICOTHE

"We hope to have an Ohio University meeting here some time soon."

BLANCHE WOLFE WATERS, '13.

COLUMBUS DINNER

Before this issue of the Bulletin reaches many of its readers, the annual meeting of the Columbus Chapter will have been held. Scheduled for Saturday evening, February 11, a record-breaking attendance is predicted. In addition to the Ohioans from Columbus and near-by towns, there is a promise of many guests from more remote points. Dr. Bryan is to be the principal speaker of the occasion. Mr. J. P. Wood, the President of the General Alumni Association will also be present. The Girls' Glee Club from the University will be on hand to supply the musical program.

THE HUNTINGTON (W. VA.) ALUMNI MEETING

Mention has frequently been made in the Bulletin about the work of this Chapter. It does not represent quantity, but for real, genuine O. U. enthusiasm, it always marks one hundred per cent. This was evidenced again on Thursday evening, January 19, when about forty guests gathered in that city to reiterate their faith in, and obligate themselves to, the cause of Alma Mater.

In the first place, this is the only chapter that maintains a scholarship at the University. The report of the committee at this meeting showed the fund in a healthy condition. Harry C. Wilson, '15, acted as Toastmaster. The first speaker of the evening was Dr. John W. Maguire, '74, who spoke in a reminiscent mood of "O. U. in the Seventies." He was especially in a happy frame of mind at this time. He likes these meetings and if he had his way he would have them once a month. He was followed by Calvin S. Welch, '75, an attorney, of Huntington. Since Mr. Welch and Dr. Maguire were in college together, they mutually knew a great many things and could therefore act as checks on each other's statements. However, Mr. Welch scored one on Maguire when he produced from his inner pocket a photograph of all the O. U. co-eds in 1874 and used it as the basis of his remarks. Maguire had never seen the picture, thus being at a loss to fully appreciate Welch's remarks. He lost no time, however, in getting possession of the coveted photograph as soon as opportunity was presented.

Scarcely less interesting was his account of the football system of those days. Mr. Welch and Dr. Maguire both gave evidence of the sentiment:

"Old Time is a liar
And we are young tonight."

The Alumni Secretary in speaking, outlined some plans which the Alumni Association has in mind to put into operation in the near future.

Of course the speech of the evening was that of President Bryan. The guests greeted the presence of the new President with a splendid ovation. Dr. Bryan in his happy manner took the guests along with him as he pictured the newer, the bigger and better O. U., which is the vision of all loyal sons and daughters of the old College.

The election of officers resulted in the selection of Harold Tyree, '16, as President; Irene Aber, '15, Secretary-Treasurer; Lu-Verne Kelly, '16, Maria Grover, '17, and Edna Preston, '20, Executive Committee; Elizabeth Grover Beatty, '17, Member Board of Control.

THE NEW AKRON CHAPTER

On the evening on January 30, "Ohioans" to the number of thirty-eight had a meeting in the Rubber City and effected an organization to be officered as follows: President, Clyde F. Beery; Vice-President, Raymond Crisp; Secretary-Treasurer, Hester South; Chairman Banquet Committee, Blanche Danford; Chairman Program Committee, Mrs. Mary Chappelle Evans; Chairman Invitation Committee, U. G. McCaughey.

This is a mighty good start for a youngster. The Association as a body intends to be at the Canton banquet in April.

A motion was carried pledging hearty support to Dr. Bryan and his administration.

STEUBENVILLE CHAPTER

The Sixth Annual Reunion of the Ohio University Alumni Association of Eastern Ohio will be held at the Fort Steuben Hotel, Steubenville, Ohio, Saturday evening, February 25th, at six o'clock.

This will afford an opportunity to meet our new President, Dr. E. B. Bryan, and to renew acquaintance with our Alumni Secretary, Prof. C. L. Martzloff, both of whom will address the Association.

This invitation includes Summer School Students, and friends of the University, as well as graduates, all of whom will be welcome. Come help us make this our largest and most enthusiastic reunion. It is very important that you send your acceptance before Feb. 15th to Mr. W. C. McAdoo, 226 North Sixth Street, Steubenville, Ohio, enclosing $2.50, price per plate.

Yours for Ohio's success,
ANNETTE H. FRANCIS,
Chairman.

IN THE ARCHIVES

OF INTEREST TO THE PHILOS

On a slip of torn paper, yellow with age, preserved in our files we gather the following bit of O. U. history. The instrument is signed by the entire faculty.

"Ohio University,
April 30, 1830.

"The cause of education in this western country must be a subject, worthy the attention of every citizen. The philanthropist and the patriot, considering its importance, both in a moral and political point of view, feel anxious to lend it their aid. They look around for some place, where their means may be concentrated, and so employed as to render the beneficial results more permanent and lasting. It is in assisting this institution of learning, which thus judiciously employs its means, they can add a stimulus to the generous ardour of youth, engaged in the acquisition of knowledge. They have a double motive to lend it their aid. It is with the fond hope that these are the sentiments of their friends and countrymen that the Members of the Philomathean Society, thus presume to solicit their attention. This Society is composed of Students of the Ohio University. Its sole object is the moral and intellectual improvement of the mind. All who have the least knowledge of similar Societies must be sensible how highly important they are to the Student who wishes to prepare himself for the service of his country. Aided by a liberal grant of the Board of Trustees and by the assistance of different individuals, this Society has been enabled to do much towards providing the necessary accommodations for an institution of this kind. Yet feeling the want of a more extensive Library, and many things necessary to their acting with energy and advantage, and not possessing at present the means of obtaining the funds requisite, they are induced to ask the assistance of their honorary Members and others known to be friends to the extension of Literature and Science. Under these circumstances, its members have been influenced to issue the following subscription, to which if any feel disposed to sign their names, will be held in grateful remembrance.

Certificate

"We, as individuals connected with the Ohio University, beg leave to assure all who may think proper to sign this subscription, that the object of the young gentlemen who solicit is laudible; that their statements are correct; and we have no doubt that any thing contributed will be prudently and judiciously applied to the purposes above stated.

AN INTERESTING DOCUMENT

Mrs. B. O. Higley has presented to the Alumni office a relic in the shape of a printed program of the Inauguration of President McGuffey, on September 18, 1839. The exercises began with a program at two o'clock in the afternoon and closed with another at seven in the evening. There were three prayers, seven selections of music and six addresses. Those participating in the event were: James Hoge, D. D., who informed the incoming President that he had been elected. The oath of office was administered by Hon. N. C. Reed, of the Ohio Supreme Court. The out-going President, R. R. Wilson, delivered the keys and the charter to his successor, after which the new President gave his inaugural address. Two new members of the Faculty, Professor Merrick and Professor Ballantine, also gave inaugural addresses.

In the evening, Hon. Thomas Ewing, 1815, just retired United States Senator from Ohio, addressed the Alumni. It was a long siege of oratory, music and prayer, but there were giants in those days and the people stood the ordeal.

A ROUND ROBIN IN CIRCULATION

Some of the Alumni who were in school along about 1905 are circulating among themselves a Round Robin. The purpose of this suspicious document, however, is not "against the government," but the official organ of a mutual admiration society where each tells bluntly what he thinks of the other fellow. To the outsider, permitted to read these accusations and confessions of the campus habitues of twenty years ago, much light is shown on some of the conspiracies of that time. Here are some of the participants: Leota Morris, Blanche Howe, J. C. Timberman, F. M. Porter, Fred Shaw, W. A. Guy, J. E. McDaniel, Amos Morris, George Sprau, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Blackstone, Mrs. William McBroom, Edith Buchanan, Mrs. Elizabeth Druggan Wilkes and Grace Somerwell. These letters are interesting and serve to unite the senders in firmer bonds to Alma Mater. All rejoice in the new day which has come to Ohio.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

Cincinnati Defeated. The Green and White warriors put it all over the Cincinnatians when the latter went down in swaths before the indomitable Ohioans to the score of 33 to 12. The victory was celebrated by a huge bonfire in front of the Alumni Gateway. In addition, the O. U. team is wearing the scalps of Ohio Northern, Marietta, Mt. Union and Western Reserve.

O. U. Defeats St. Xavier. After a thrilling, closely contested game of basket ball on the Ohio floor, the visitors were defeated by a score of 34 to 32.

Cuban Pianist. Enrique Ros gave to campus music lovers a rare treat on February 1, in what was regarded as one of the finest programs ever given at O. U.

Student Enrollment. The enrollment of students for the first semester was 1331. At the end of the registration period for the second semester the total number had reached 1272.

Lambda Chi Buy House. The house formerly occupied by the Sigma Pi fraternity has been purchased by the Lambda Chi Alphas. The Sigs are now in temporary quarters but are expecting to build in due time.

Dean Chubb's Accident. While indulging in "inside" golf recently, Dean E. W. Chubb met with a serious accident. The ball rebounding, struck the Dean's glasses, breaking one of the lens. Fragments of glass lodged in one of his eyes, necessitating a trip to Columbus. The Dean is again at his duties, though he will find time and good treatment necessary to regain his normal sight.

The Christian Associations have secured the services of Dr. C. W. Gilke, of Chicago, for February 8, 9, and 10, for a series of addresses dealing with the absorbing topics of the times. This is a great opportunity to the students and the management is to be congratulated for bringing such a speaker to the Campus.

The new Student Pastor, Rev. Charles Bond, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., is due to arrive here about the tenth of the month. His arrival will be welcomed, for great hopes are being entertained on the results of his labor here.

Many a student during the past forty years will remember Dr. F. P. McVay, one of the well-known physicians of Athens. His recent death will be regretted by the hundreds who knew him. His interest in the students and the University never waned during his entire life. His two sons, Don and Frank were both students, the former graduating in 1915.

Another friend of the University has passed away in the death of Theodore M. Pickering, an ex-student, a Civil War veteran and a life time resident of Athens. He was the father of Pearl and Nelle M. Pickering, both alumnae of the college.

At the end of the first semester forty-eight students were dismissed from the campus because of failure in their studies. This is 3½ per cent of the enrollment.

President Bryan recently addressed the members of the Association of Ohio Dailies at their annual convention in Columbus.

Students in the Engineering Department have organized an Engineers Club.

Lutheran students on the campus have organized an association known as the Wartburg Club.

The campus has one more fraternity to its credit—the Alpha Chapter of the Kappa Psi Alpha.

Mlle. Marie Louise Petetot is our only native French student on the campus.

LITERARY ACTIVITIES

Here is another one from the brain and pen of William Thomas Morgan, '09. It is a reprint from the June, 1921, issue of the Political Science Quarterly. The subject is "The Ministerial Revolution of 1710 in England." We haven't read it, but it looks good, and we know it is, because—well, because "Tommy" did it.

Prof. R. L. Morton, '13, has been appointed by the State Director of Education a member of the Bureau of Educational Research. Superintendent Dietrich, Ex., of Piqua, is also a member.

Forestry Lectures. Drs. W. F. Cope-land, '02 and W. A. Matheny, '08, are each to give two weeks lectures on Forestry at the Summer School next August in connection with Penn State School of Forestry, located at Mont Alta, that state.

DE ALUMNIS

'72—The old chaps of the late sixties and early seventies will be glad to learn about their old friend, C. R. Long. Mr. Long is established at 589 Delaware Ave., Buffalo, N. Y. The other living members of the class of 1872 are W. W. Gist, Vernon C. Stiers and Geo. R. Walker. Mr. Long in a letter says, "We are considering a reunion of our class."

'88—Our loyal Alumnus, Geo. W. Reed, of Uhrichsville, sends us this bit of cheering news: "I read the January Reminder today and found much of interest therein—more I think than in any former single number. Every person in our office as well as in our home has been in the O. U., so, of course, we pass the good things along."

'98 E. E.—E. C. Merwin is general foreman, locomotive department, Westinghouse Elec. Mfg. Co., Pittsburg, Pa. Mrs. Merwin was Maud Herrold, an ex-student.

'04—John E. McDaniel, formerly one of the teaching force on the campus seems to enjoy life at Montrose, Colorado.

'06—Dr. W. H. Norton continues his profession as Physician and Surgeon at Mt. Clemens, Michigan.

'07—Mrs. Ina Mason McBroom is visitor for the "Family Service Society," Columbus

'08—H. W. Mayes, a successful farmer near Medina, says: "I am always glad to get the Bulletin and to hear about the boys whom I knew at O. U. Am hoping to visit it before long."

'08 Com.—Golden Pennel (Mrs. Clarence D. Kyle) is a student at the Grace Hamilton Morey School of Music, Columbus.

'09—Horace E. Cromer, Petersburg, Va., regrets his failure to meet Prof. and Mrs. Treudley on their recent visit to that city.

'09 Civ. E.—F. W. Minesinger is a farmer near New Cumberland, W. Va.

'10—Frank B. Kurtz, one of the liveliest Alumni we have, after some years stay in Chicago has quite recently located at 8 East Long Street, Columbus. He is engaged in the Manufacturers' Agency business, handling among other things, Refinite Water Softeners for the state of Ohio. Mr. Kurtz was the leading spirit in the Chicago Alumni Chapter.

'11—E. C. Wilkes and Mrs. Wilkes (Winifred Grafton, '14) live at Tiffin, where Mr. Wilkes represents the Prudential Life Insurance Company. They say: "We enjoy the Bulletin immensely. We are both well and enjoying life."

'12—Marguerite Sutherland Gates is Drawing Supervisor at Warren.

'13—Listen to this: "I am directing the consolidated schools here and doing some vegetable gardening. I also have quite a large number of music students. I have organized a community orchestra that does splendidly. I am trying to keep things stirring. I certainly do appreciate the Bulletin. I am proud of its growth and I hope to aid its publication regularly in the future." So writes Clarence A. Matheny, Superintendent of Schools, North Lewisburg.

'14—Carl G. Pemberton, whose serious sickness we have noted in the Bulletin, is now in Portsmouth (310 Court St.) where he is rapidly recovering his usual health and will soon be ready for work again.

'14—S. S. Shafer practices law in the city of Canton.

'15—Winona Hemphill teaches Science in the Junior High School at Warren.

'15—Harrison A. Heskett and Mrs. Heskett (Grace Imler, an ex-student) live at Akron, where Mr. Heskett is connected with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company.

'16—Anna E. Carroll is assistant principal of the Bridgeport High School.

'16—Edna M. Warner on account of ill health is not teaching this year but is resting at her home in Newark.

'16—Eliza M. Allison has charge of the Directorship of the Mahoning County Normal School at Canfield.

'16—Mayme L. Rutledge is instructor in Domestic Art at East High School, Columbus.

'17—Chloe Henry George now lives at Newcomerstown, where Mr. George is assistant cashier of the First National Bank of that city.

'17—Vesta Applegate is a teacher in the East Cleveland Schools.

'17—Adair Kesling teaches Music in the Central Junior High School, Huntington, W. Va.

'18—Arthur E. Buchanan has charge of Athletics and Manual Training in the Marietta High School.

'18—Bertha Drury teaches in the New Lexington schools.

'18—Marie Richter is spending the year at her home in Columbus. To keep herself out of mischief she devotes her time as general custodian of the exchange desk in the F. and R. Lazarus store.

'19—Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Burton (Bell Shipp's '18), Martinsville, have this to say: "We thoroughly enjoy the Bulletin each month and our wish is that this year may be the best ever for the Association."

'19—Helen J. Burris teaches in the Martins Ferry Public Schools.

'19—Anna Rowan is supervisor of Art in the State Normal School at Clarion, Pa.

'19—Mary Ruth Gorsuch is assistant principal of the Pickaway Centralized Schools near Circleville.

'19—Marie A. Shupe is Dietician at the Leland Stanford University Hospitals, San Francisco.

'19—Bertha Hurd Wilson, Aldonia, sends along this suggestion with her Alumni fee:

"Splendid idea of Mrs. High's to have some O. U. records made. Just one thing to add. Have them made so they can be played on all standard machines. My order will be among the first."

'20—Edna M. Morgan teaches in the Lafayette School, Cleveland.

'20—Lillian Wagner is connected with the Austintown Centralized Schools, which are regarded as among the best in the state.

'20—Francile Muck teaches French in the Painesville High School.

'20—Helena Schwall is still connected with the schools of McKeesport, Pa.

'20—Esther K. Kurtz, Instructor of Commercial Work, Penhale Junior High School, East Youngstown. She says she is "teaching with a group of teachers of whom the majority hail from O. U. So I feel right at home here."

'21—Alta Cherrington is a member of our steadily growing O. U. colony in Huntington, W. Va.

'21—Myrtle Fox writes from Point Pleasant, W. Va, where she is supervisor of Music and Penmanship to the effect that she enjoys getting the Alumni Bulletin. Two other O. U.-ites are also teaching in Point Pleasant: Mary McCulloch, '16, and Dora B. Eliss, ex-student.

'21—Marjorie E. Hagel teaches English and History in the High School at Holgate.

'21—Helen C. Ludwick, now teaching in Williamson, W. Va., writes to tell us that she wants the Bulletin and that Williamson and Mingo counties are not the wild and uncivilized places as they are depicted.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Engle, (Winifred Rulon) both former O. U. students, and little son, Dale Carlson, live on their farm near Logan, Ohio. At present however, Mr. Engle is receiving treatment at the National Military Home Hospital, at Dayton, Ohio, for tuberculosis, incurred while in service overseas with the 37th Division.

'14—Esther Greisheimer, Assistant Professor of Physiology at Wellesley, adds to her duties a course in Junior Medical work at Tufts College Medical School.

'09—Supt. A. H. Dixon, University Place, Nebraska, is receiving quite a bit of favorable comment from his "Back-to-the-Home" movement which he has instituted in his school systems. The Nebraska Teacher has devoted considerable space in describing this work as carried on by Supt. Dixon and his corps of teachers. A new Domestic Arts Home has been erected at a cost of $24,000. The Home is under the direction of the girls of the school who take turns in its management.

'20—Everett Rowles is a student in the Medical Department of O. S. U.

'09—C. W. White, Principal of Schools at Eatonville, Wash., says, "Don't ever forget to send me a Bulletin."

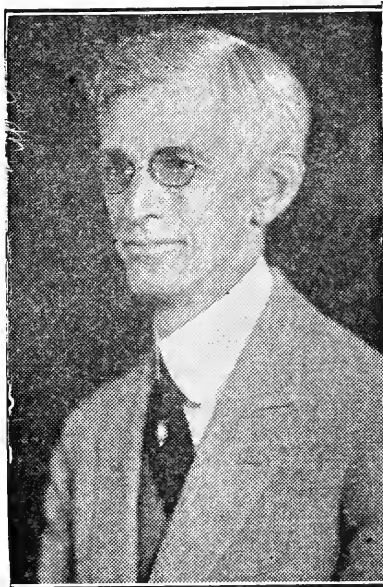

Ohio in Michigan. Dr. Harry C. Young, '13, is Professor of Plant Pathology, at Amherst Agricultural College.

J. O. Grimes, '13, is Principal of the High School at Ypsilanti.

Samuel Renshaw, '14, J. A. Place, '13, and George Sprau, '04, are at the Western State Normal School, and Branson Walpole, '15, is Director of Agricultural Extension in the Michigan Agricultural College.

'21—W. A. Smith is connected with one of the largest centralized schools in north-eastern Ohio. It is located at North Lima, a hustling agricultural community in Mahoning County.

"I feel certain that through the efforts of the Alumni Association and President Bryan, O. U. will soon have a prominent place among the colleges of the United States. Yours for a better and larger O. U."

JOHN E. SANDERS
Burbank, California

"Through the kindness of my niece who now lives in Athens I received the Catalog number of the Ohio University Bulletin, 1920-1921.

"Yesterday there came four copies including the extra of December, 1921.

"I attended the O. U. in 1863-4-5 but did not get back to graduate. The last year I was there my name appeared on the 'Faculty Page' as 'Tutor in Mathematics.' I am now living in Southern California, a retired Baptist Minister.

"If I live till March 27 prox. I will be eighty-two. My faculties are well preserved and my general health good. Success to the old O. U. and the new president."

MRS. CLYDE BROWN
138 East 36th Street
New York City

"The New York alumni were unanimous in their admiration of President Bryan and Dean Voigt at the dinner in December.

"If the dinner next winter could be planned for a time when several people from Athens could be present we should all be so glad to arrange it that way. It increases the interest immensely to have people straight from the active life of the college with us at our annual reunion.

"Hoping all good things for the University and for Athens."

NINA SCHWEFEL BALLARD
8301 St. Martin's Lane
Chestnut Hill, Pa.

"I inclose two checks, one for the work of the Association and the other for the Evans Latin Prize Fund. I shall never forget the pleasure and profit I found in Prof. Evans' Latin classes. Latin may be a dead language but it is a living delight in the hands of such a teacher. I am glad to see by the Bulletin that there is a hope that Prof. Evans will recover his hearing, and to be repaid for months of patient waiting.

"The news of old friends and their children brought by the Bulletin gives us great pleasure."

MADGE LINDSAY
714 Gordon Pl., N. W.
Canton, Ohio

"An address by Dean Ida Comstock, of Smith College, President of the American Association of University Women, reminds me to urge that we all pull together for Ohio's entrance into membership in 'The Association of Collegiate Alumnae.'"

MRS. KATHARINE GOOLD
MACARTNEY
138 Prospect Street
East Orange, N. J.

"We had a good time, as usual, at the dinner and we enjoyed more than I can say hearing and meeting Dr. Bryan. I say we, meaning my sister, Miss Goold who is here from Honolulu, and myself, as it was very pleasant to hear from Dr. Bryan of our old home.

"I should love to go back to the dear old town and see if there are any of my old haunts left or if it is entirely changed. I am made younger each year as I attend these banquets and meet the teachers and friends of my girlhood, and should I go back, I know I should be back as a seventeen year old girl instead of the mother of a boy in his teens and a should be grandmother, as I have heard of one of the "boys" with whom I used to go about being a grandfather.

"Inclosed you will find my much delayed check, but with it goes my very best wishes for dear old O. U. and the Alumni Association. Are either Inez Riddle or George W. Brown on the Alumni list?"

W. H. SCOTT
3451 N. High St.
Columbus, O.

"My dear Professor Martzolf:

"I thank you for the invitation to attend the exercises of Founders' Day. I should like to be present. It is always a pleasure to me to be in Athens, and I am sure that I should enjoy this occasion. But at this time of the year the weather is so uncertain that it would not be advisable for me to undertake the journey.

"I hope that the day will prove highly successful and that the attendance will be large.

"Professor Hatfield and I expect to meet at the University during the next Commencement to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of our graduation. It will also be the fiftieth anniversary of my accession to the presidency of the University. The other two members of the class of '62 who met with us in 1912 have since died."

H. R. McVAY, '90
Superintendent of Schools
Marion, Ohio

"In response to your letter, will say that we had a most successful gathering of the Ohio University Alumni and ex-students when Dr. Bryan was here. I think fifty or fifty-one were present. Dr. Bryan stirred the enthusiasm in all, as he is doing everywhere. He also made very able addresses before our Chamber of Commerce at their noon-day luncheon and again to our teachers and members of the Parent-Teachers Association, at the Junior High School Auditorium in the evening. We were very glad to have Dr. Bryan with us.

"Miss Touchman has promised to send you a more complete report of our meeting and association that was organized."

CARL STOCKDALE

Robert College
Constantinople, Turkey

"We have a fine gym and a good basket ball team. Students and teachers make up the Varsity out here. I am coaching basket ball and base ball.

"I am also getting my Master's degree here, major—economics; minor—history. This is an excellent environment in which to study history, not to mention economics and the practical lessons we get on exchange fluctuations. * * *

"I have received two numbers of the Alumni Bulletin and they were more than interesting reading. If you will send me B. L. Horn's address, I shall be pleased to entertain him here if he comes back thru or visits Constantinople. I do not know him, but an Ohio man certainly would be welcome. If you get in touch with him, you might give him my address.

"I met Roy Langfitt in Athens (Greece) quite by accident out on the Acropolis. We had a great time that evening talking over old times at old Ohio.

"Dr. Bryan must be doing wonderful things at Ohio this year, judging from what little news I get from Athens. I am glad. It seems that the farther away one gets, the more deeply interested one becomes in the old school.

"A description of Constantinople? It is clear beyond me. It is too big; there is too much, both past and present. I wouldn't know where to begin; I wouldn't know where to stop."

HELEN BATTRICK, '18

"I just returned from the Alumni meeting at Youngstown. My, but it was an inspiration to meet Dr. Bryan! He made Ohio University's problems our problems. In fact we wanted to shake off several (?) years and live our college life again.

"My best wishes to Ohio University and its Alumni."

BODY OF SERVICE MAN RETURNED

Corporal Everett McClain, for two years a student at the Ohio University, was killed in the Argonne section on September 28, 1918. He belonged to the 147th Infantry. His body has been returned to his relatives near Athens and re-interred.

ODDS AND ENDS

"The American College graduate entertains for his institution a type of loyalty that is one of the very splendid things in our American life. I know of nothing which is comparable to it. I think it is unique in the sense that it is hardly known in other countries as it is in our own. It is a thing that arouses the amazement of a Frenchman or a German. It is hardly known even in England."—President Angell, Yale University.

At the Columbus holiday educational meetings, O. U. was represented by the following: Dean W. W. McIntire, "The Des Moines Meeting of the National Educational Association; President Bryan gave the principal address at the Memorial Building; R. L. Morton, "The Scientist in Education"; Gertrude Bartlett, Vice President, and Margaret Nesbitt, on Executive Committee of the State Teachers' Association; Prof. F. C. Landsittel, "Effective Observation Work"; Prof. W. L. Gard, "The Influences of Kindergarten Training on Achievement in Reading and Arithmetic"; Supt. B. O. Skinner, "Correlation Between Hand-schin Predetermination Language Test and Success in Beginning Latin"; C. O. Williamson, Committeeman, Mathematics Section; Zella Foster, Committee member; and C. E. Thomas, Secretary, English Section.

We are pleased to add the "Olio," the Marietta College student and alumni publication, to our list of exchanges.

Volume One, Number One, of the Bluffton Alumnus, a most creditable publication, has reached our desk. This little college in northwestern Ohio, with a student body of nearly four hundred, has added to her endowment about $85,000 during the past year.

Neil Martin, a student at Ohio University about ten years ago and who was a particular friend of J. Howell ("Kat") Lindley, and a member of the same fraternity, Phi Delta Theta, like Mr. Lindley, is making quite a success on the stage.

He is mentioned most favorably in the Philadelphia Public Ledger as playing an important role in "Only 38," a new play just appearing in Philadelphia.

CARRIE ALTA MATTHEWS, '92

The Brother's Tribute

Carrie Alta Matthews was born September 7, 1865, and died June 11, 1921. In girlhood she taught in the country schools. She joined the M. E. Church in 1875; was graduated from Ohio University in 1892; taught high school in Winamac, Indiana, in 1893; was stenographer in New York City from 1902 to 1905; assistant librarian, O. U. library, 1909-1919; at Athens State Hospital, July 14, 1919, till death.

Her motto, reminiscent of college days and of her sorority, was Philippians, 4th chapter, verse 8th, reading, "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, if there be any praise, think on these things."

A brother's estimate of a loved sister might well be partial. Yet "He knoweth best who loveth best," and who could know her better? Let me sketch her as she was to me. Then if there be any virtue, if there be any praise, think on these things.

Sister she was, and more than sister. My gentle, unselfish business partner who helped plan and build the home and the little garden. Dear childlike companion of my endless walks, she loved the trees and flowers and birds and animals with a holy affection. She would not peep overlong into the woodthrush's nest because it so distressed the small builder. How often she has left the wild flower growing in the lonely woods because God might want it! The memory can never leave me of her sweet welcome to the returning robins and grackles this spring, through the bars of hospital windows, while the great shadow was already darkening the sky.

In every life there is some great disappointment, some youthful ambition laid away forever in rose leaves. Her lost hope was of authorship. Many short stories and poems she wrote in preparation. And she never came nearer breaking her brother's heart than by her bitter tears over the return of her magnum opus by the granite-hearted publishers. It was all very childish, of course; and yet, even in mature years, I think a sting remained in her memory. But though it was not hers to set the world dreaming sweet dreams, how bravely she took up the labor of commonplace! Always frail, she strove far beyond her strength to help pay for the little home, alas! scarcely won before lost to her. One of the cruelest of her fixed ideas after her admission to the hospital was that some conspiracy was afoot to rob mother and brother of the home that cost so much.

And how passionately she did love that home! On the one occasion she was permitted to revisit it with her nurse, on a lovely day in June, she wandered from room to room, clapping her hands and breathing over and over, "Oh, it's home, it's home! It's heaven!" I think the angels stopped singing that day to drop a tear over my poor, little sister. And that last supper together, full of the old commonplace and gentle ministrations, but with terrible undercurrents of foreboding and farewell!

Yes, once again she was allowed to visit the dear home. All one beautiful June Sunday afternoon I sat by her side, she silent, peaceful, beholding the King in His beauty; I, whispering to her, sobbing, groping with dim eyes. I know not how; but above the vision of the eternal at play with the passing and the mortal—far-off and above—there shone a smile of ineffable gladness.

Life tore from her every trace of ambition, of hope, of faith, even; for in her great need she cried, "My God, why hast thou forsaken me?" She lost what all men live for, friends, home, reason, memory, almost; but love stood fast, nor wavered at all. Her last word was a scarcely audible query, "Mother?"

Did her life fail? No; for what remained for us who stood pitifully by, but to try to meet her love with one great as her own? It was for us to see to it that there was never a little sister better loved.

Now thou art gone my heart will wake
Before the ardent eye of dawn
Runs through the hills—oh, will it break
Now thou art gone?

And when the twilight draweth on Where once we strayed for love's sweet sake,
The moon will look o'er field and lawn.

And when I grieve, and old woes ache,
Outshining purpled Solomon,
Perhaps thou'lt wait by wood and lake,
Though thou art gone!

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION FOR 1921-1922

The Alumni Association for the coming year will need Three Thousand Dollars. Last year it used Twenty-three Hundred Dollars.

The Bulletin, it will be noticed, has been increased in size as well as in number of pages. Last year we printed 2000 copies each month. This year it will reach 2500 with each issue.

To effect these changes will require a considerable sum in advance over previous years.

For the convenience of the alumni, the form on the other side has been prepared. May we ask that early attention to this matter be given?

From the beginning of the re-organization of the Association there has never been a time when our funds were not sufficient to meet all expenses. Let us put across our Three Thousand Drive NOW. In this way we can plan our course for the year and give you a better and a bigger Bulletin.

Directions: Fill out the blanks as indicated with the amount that you feel you ought to pay for the support of the Association: inclose it in an envelope addressed to the Ohio University Alumni Association, and we will do the rest. Do it now!
